

Jesus Will Return, Then We'll Have to Give an Account.
Matthew 25:14-30

The main point of this parable is: At Jesus' return, _____ will have to give an account of all that has been entrusted to him.

Matthew 25:19

This parable is meant to be a _____ of the previous one.

Matthew 25:14

That which is _____ to the _____ carries two specific qualities.

Matthew 25:15

That which was entrusted to the servants carried three _____.

1. The servants were required to _____ the _____ to the master upon his return.

Matthew 25:19

2. The servants were required to make the _____ during the master's absence.

Matthew 25:16-17

3. Each of the servants was to follow the master's example of _____ a _____.

Matthew 25:24

Everyone who claims to be a Christian must remember that the Master will _____ and _____ and accounting.

Matthew 25:19

Putting the master's trust to work will always yield _____.

The main point is not the doubling of the master's money but the _____, _____ plan to _____ the master's wealth.

Matthew 25:16-17

Jesus is making two very important points when He presents the _____.

Matthew 25:21, 23

1. Faithfulness with the master's trust brings the _____ of more _____ in the master's realm.

1 Corinthians 4:1-5

2. Along with the greater responsibilities comes the entrance into the _____ of the master.

Matthew 24:46-47

Those who are unfaithful always try to _____ the _____ for their failure.

Matthew 25:24-25

The unfaithful servant only saw the master as a "_____."

The unfaithful servant believed that the master was not _____, and blamed his fear on his master rather than believing in the _____ of the master.

Matthew 25:25

Even doing a _____ is better than doing _____ at all.

Matthew 25:18, 27

Jesus declared that the servant's refusal to _____ was not the result of _____.

Matthew 25:26

An unfaithful servant is condemned for his _____ of _____.

Living for personal _____ and _____ brings eternal loss.

Matthew 25:28

The delusion of self-protection will result in an immediate and stark realization of _____.

Matthew 25:29

Eternal consequences await those who _____ to _____ what they've been entrusted.

Matthew 25:30