

Jesus Christ is the Righteous Judge of All
Isaiah 11:1-10

The _____ of the righteous Judge revealed.
He is the legitimate _____ from the line of _____.
Verses 1 and 10 form and _____, revealing
that this section is purely _____.
Isaiah 11:1, 10
By the time of Isaiah, the Davidic line was
_____ and small in _____.
By the time of Christ's _____, the Davidic line was of no _____.
Isaiah 11:1
So inconsequential was the Davidic line that even the _____ and _____ of Jesus was obscured.
Luke 2:4; Mark 6:3
The phrase "the _____ of (Jesse or David)" is found used of Jesus in the _____ Testament.
Romans 15:12; Revelation 5:5
Jesus came as one who possessed the _____ of the
_____.
Isaiah 11:2
He could do no mighty works without the
_____ of the _____ in His life.
Matthew 3:16; Luke 4:14-15
Because Jesus was Spirit _____ and
_____, He would give us of that which
He has.
John 7:37-39; 14:16-17
The _____ of the righteous Judge revealed.
He will so _____ the Lord His God that He will
_____ in the _____ of God.
Isaiah 11:3
The fear of the Lord is the determinate factor in being a _____.
John 7:24; Deuteronomy 1:17

Jesus will judge by what is _____ in the person.

Isaiah 11:3; John 2:24-25

His judgment is always _____ and _____.

Isaiah 11:4; Proverbs 3:5-6

His _____ will do one of two things.

1. It will bring _____ leading to

_____.

Isaiah 11:4; Hebrews 4:12

2. He will _____ the wicked

_____.

Isaiah 11:4; 2 Thessalonians 2:7-8

Christ will reveal the _____ of the believer.

Isaiah 11:5; Ephesians 6:14

The _____ of the righteous Judge revealed.

All _____ will be _____ through Christ.

Isaiah 11:6-7

_____ are now made friends.

This is not about _____ but about hostile
_____ being brought together in Christ.

The church with Jesus Christ as its Head will be at
_____, picturing the peace of the _____.

_____ and actions have no
place among the people of God.

Isaiah 11:8

God's holy hill is no longer _____
Jerusalem, but the _____ of believers
wherever they may live.

Isaiah 11:9; 2 Peter 1:17-18

Galatians 4:25-26; Hebrews 12:22

"In that day" is a reference to the inclusion of the
_____ into the _____ through salvation in Christ.

Isaiah 11:10; Ephesians 2:11-22