

Jesus, the Firstborn of Many Brothers
John 20:17-18

In the _____ and _____ of Jesus Christ,
new relationships are made.

Before His resurrection, Jesus has called His followers _____, servants (_____) and _____ but never brothers.
John 15:15

Jesus declares that He and His _____ (the disciples in particular) are _____.
John 20:17

Jesus declares that He and His _____ have the same _____.
John 20:17

Jesus declares that He and His _____ have the same _____.
John 20:17

While Jesus declares that He is _____ to “my Father and your Father”, the _____ to the Father is not the same.

Jesus is the _____ of the Father by _____.
John 3:16

As the one and only Son of God, God gave His _____ and most _____ gift to atone for sins.
Ephesians 2:4-5

We are sons by _____ (by _____), being conformed into the image (likeness) of God’s dear Son.
Romans 8:29; 1 John 3:2

While Jesus declares that He is _____ to “my God and your God”, His _____ to God is different than ours.

The Father is Jesus’ _____ whom He serves as a
_____.
Ephesians 1:17; 1 Corinthians 3:21-23

The Father is our God before Whom Jesus died in order to _____ us to God and Who is now our
_____.
1 Timothy 2:5-6

He is our God by virtue of the _____ and _____ of Jesus, His Son.
1 Peter 3:18

In spite of the _____ of His disciples, Jesus lovingly declares that they are His brothers.

Jesus called them “brothers” which has nothing to do with _____.
Matthew 26:31-32; John 18:25-27

Jesus’ declaration of “brothers” has everything to do with _____ on their (our) behalf.
Galatians 4:4-6