

Our Suffering Has a God Ordained Purpose
2 Corinthians 1:1-11

The believer would never be _____ to know the _____ of God without facing suffering.

True _____ comes from our _____ God.
2 Corinthians 1:3

Those _____ must _____ others with the same _____ that they have received from God.
2 Corinthians 1:4

The _____ brings _____ to those who suffer.
2 Corinthians 1:5; Psalm 51:1-2; Hebrews 2:17

Finding our comfort in _____ while we endure suffering is a source is a _____ to others who are also suffering.

_____ need to know that they are not _____ in their suffering: other believers suffer too.
2 Corinthians 1:6

_____ need to see believers _____ to suffering in a _____ way as they trust in Christ.
2 Corinthians 1:6

Suffering believers must set an _____ for others to _____ as they endure suffering for Christ.
2 Corinthians 1:6

Suffering believers must _____ that their suffering and the comfort they find in God will result in _____ for others.
2 Corinthians 1:7

God's comfort extends into and beyond our _____, bringing comfort to those who currently suffer.

Suffering can be a _____ that leads our flesh to despair.
2 Corinthians 1:8

Even though the situation may be grave, our _____ is not in our ability to handle the situation, but in God.
2 Corinthians 1:9

Sometimes God does deliver us from _____, but He always delivers us unto _____.
2 Corinthians 1:10

The purpose of _____ is as a _____ God's provision of sustaining _____ in every situation.
2 Corinthians 1:11