

Redemption is a Wonderful Gift of God

Ruth 4

The law/gospel (____ vs. _____) distinction is a fundamental teaching that marks _____ theology.

The law (that which God demands) is not _____, it is _____, but its job is not to save me.

Genesis 2:17; Romans 7:10–12

The _____ is the free gift of God through _____.

Romans 5:9

God shows us that the plan of redemption is _____.

Boaz, as a type of Christ, took the _____ in redemption.

Ruth 4:1; Luke 1:67–68

Boaz illustrates for us that the Redeemer came _____ to redeem His _____.

Ruth 4:2; John 1:14

Like Ruth, our _____ is constantly weighing upon us.

Ruth had nothing but _____ to offer to the redeemer.

Ruth 4:3-4

We have _____ to offer toward our redemption.

Luke 7:36-38, 47-50; Isaiah 64:6; Romans 3:23

The first redeemer (covenant of works) is _____ and _____ to redeem us.

Ruth 4:5–6; Genesis 3:24; Romans 3:20

Boaz _____ and _____ took on the role of the kinsman-redeemer.

The story of Ruth shows us how the close redeemer _____ his right and handed it off to Boaz, the greater Redeemer.

Ruth 4:6, 8; Hebrews 7:18; Galatians 3:10

Like Boaz, our Redeemer made a _____ of redemption for His bride.

Ruth 4:9; Colossians 2:13-15

Like the witnesses who _____ Ruth's redemption and praised God, there are _____ to our redemption as well.

Ruth 4:10–11; Luke 15:7

When Boaz redeemed Ruth, he brought her into his _____ with all the rights of a _____ member.

Ruth 4:11–12

Christ, our Redeemer brings us into the _____ of _____.

John 1:12–13; Romans 8:29

The story of Ruth is a story of the providence of God, Who takes _____ and _____ them to great heights in His plan of redemption.

Ruth is one of many _____ women in the line of the _____ to come.

Perez's mother was _____ who was impregnated by her father-in-law, Judah.

Ruth 4:12; Genesis 38

Boaz's "mother" was _____ who was in his line some 300 years earlier.

Ruth 4:20–21; Matthew 1:5; Joshua 6

David's great grandmother was _____.

Ruth 4:21–22; Matthew 1:5–6

_____ other _____ women were also in the line of Christ the Great Kinsman-Redeemer.

_____ with whom David committed adultery.

Matthew 1:6

The _____ who would conceive the Christ child by the Holy Spirit.

Matthew 1:16